

Alexander Green Joins McGlinchey's Financial Services Litigation Group

March 08, 2022

McGlinchey is pleased to announce that Alexander Green has joined the firm's Financial Services Litigation group as Of Counsel in the Washington, D.C. office. Alexander advises and defends banks, loan servicers, automobile lenders, and other financial service providers in matters involving a myriad of laws and regulations.

"We are pleased to welcome Alex to our team," said Megan Ben'Ary, Managing Member of the Washington, DC office. "His extensive experience in financial services litigation will bolster our ability to provide excellent counsel to our clients nationwide."

Before joining McGlinchey, Alexander served as an associate at Clark Hill Law, where he assisted clients with a wide array of financial services issues and commercial disputes. Alex has represented clients in matters concerning the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA), Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (FDCPA), Truth in Lending Act (TILA), Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act (RESPA), Equal Credit Opportunity Act (ECOA), Telephone Consumer Protection Act (TCPA), as well as several state consumer protection laws.

He has gained meaningful experience representing companies, owners, and officers in connection with corporate and contract disputes, including shareholder derivative actions and allegations of breach of contract, fraud, tortious interference with contract, breach of fiduciary duty, and civil conspiracy. Additionally, Alex has experience defending against allegations of securities fraud.

"Alex's experience providing legal counsel to a variety of financial service providers will enhance our litigation practice, and we look forward to providing our clients with the benefit of his keen legal insights," said Anthony Rollo, chair of the firm's national Financial Services Litigation practice group.

Alex has represented clients before federal and state courts at the trial and appellate levels throughout Virginia, Maryland, and the District of Columbia. He has extensive experience navigating the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia, commonly referred to as the "Rocket Docket," for its speedy disposition of cases that come before it.

Alex received his J.D. from George Washington University Law School in 2012. He received a bachelor's degree, cum laude, from the University of Notre Dame in 2009.
