

Claims & Litigation Management – What the Books Don’t Tell You: Frequently Overlooked Investigative Tactics in Litigation

November 29, 2022

In 2022, claims professionals and litigators must adapt their investigative approaches to the changing times and technologies. Now more than ever, there are new, fruitful ways to investigate claims and defend litigation – from social media to surveillance.

On Thursday, December 1, 2022, Allyson Byrd (New Orleans) will co-present a session on investigative tactics in litigation during the Claims and Litigation Management Alliance (CLM) 2022 December Focus in New York City. The session will prepare claims professionals and litigators to more effectively investigate claims and ensure that information is protected and preserved for trial.

Learn more.

Related people

Allyson C. Byrd