The panel will explore the nature and scope of the attorney-client privilege, how it is created and preserved, how it can be abused and lost, and how to speak with in-house and outside counsel to investigate, strategize, and defend the company. Panelists will also focus on work-product immunity, including how it arises, when it may be asserted, and how it is created, used, and preserved.

Jim Milano (Washington, DC) will participate in the "Closing Super Session" which wraps up the conference with a facilitated super session. Every topic is fair game in this popular session that will address legislation and litigation as well as regulatory requirements.
