

McGlinchey Stafford Nabs Bankruptcy Veteran From PNC

February 05, 2024

Member Tom Henderson (Irvine) was profiled by Law360 on February 5, 2024, on joining McGlinchey. He discussed his background in the financial services industry, why he chose this firm, and what he brings to McGlinchey's clientele.

"I was looking for a workplace where I could do more," Henderson told Law360.

"I'm as interested in helping small credit unions as helping the largest financial institutions in the nation or the world," he said.

He emphasized his interest in a holistic approach to helping clients, seeing a given bankruptcy or problem not in isolation but as an opportunity to pursue his clients' long-term interests from the perspectives of all involved. The interesting matter wasn't solving the one problem, he told Law360, but using it to advise a client to improve outlook and practices.

Henderson contrasted this with traditional representation focused on enforcing rights. He said his holistic approach would help bring value to his new firm and clientele.
