

McGlinchey Stafford Presents Endowed Scholarship to Tulane School of Law

September 29, 2006

On September 29, 2006 the Tulane School of Law's Endowed McGlinchey Stafford Professorship was presented at the LSU Health Sciences Center in New Orleans. The endowed professorship, given by McGlinchey Stafford, provides supplemental salary for a law school professor. The professorship has been fully funded by the law firm and will now receive matching funds from the LA Board of Regents.
