

The Return to Work: Addressing Evolving Risks Around Operations in a Multi-Generational, Employee-Powered Environment

January 23, 2023

Employers, insurance companies, underwriters, and brokers are all continuing to reevaluate a return to work amid the new-normal of the post-COVID workplace and workforce. What are the vagaries of today's return-to-office, hybrid, and fully remote workforce models and how are employers successfully updating employee protocols and reengaging with a more employee-empowered workforce?

Member Magdalen Bickford (New Orleans) will co-present on a panel titled "The Return to Work: Addressing Evolving Risks Around Operations in a Multi-Generational, Employee-Powered Environment" at the American Conference Institute's (ACI) 31st annual Employment Practices Liability Insurance on January 24, 2023, in New York City.
