

The State of Regulated Money Transmission

April 11, 2024

Member Amy Greenwood-Field (Washington, DC) will join a panel presentation on “The State of Regulated Money Transmission,” during the IPA Innovative Payments Conference on Monday, May 6, 2024, in Washington, DC.

Panelists will assess the current environment of Regulated Money Transmission. This comprehensive discussion will discuss the Money Transmission Model Act (MTMA), available uniform exemptions, and how states are increasing review and oversight of previously less regulated products such as Earned Wage Access and Virtual Currency. Don't miss this discussion to learn to navigate this still-challenging environment. The good news is there is harmonization coming and there are tools to be aware of as you enter the world of state licensing.
