

Waxman Named Vice Chair of ABA Environmental Committee

February 01, 2024

McGlinchey Stafford is pleased to announce Of Counsel David Waxman has been selected to serve as the Environmental Committee Vice Chair of the American Bar Association (ABA) Real Property, Trust and Estate Law Section's Land Use and Environmental Group.

The ABA Real Property, Trust and Estate (RPTe) Law Section, with more than 15,000 members, is a leading national forum for lawyers. The Real Property Division focuses on legal aspects of property use, ownership, development, transfer, regulation, financing, taxation and disposal. The Trust and Estate Division focuses on all aspects of trusts, estate planning, employee benefits, insurance, and probate and trust litigation.

The Environmental Committee focuses on a wide range of environmental issues impacting the ownership, operation, use, management, and financing of real estate, including evolving environmental issues stemming from climate change, and monitors trends and recent developments in environmental law at the federal, state, and local levels.

With more than three decades of experience, David Waxman helps clients in the real estate industry translate business goals into the legal structure that will best achieve them. Serving a national client base, but with a focus on Ohio and other Midwestern states, David advises both individuals and organizations, including public companies, closely held businesses, lenders, and manufacturers.

Clients rely on him to handle their transactions and matters pertaining to real estate acquisition, development, redevelopment, construction contracts and transactions, environmental compliance and insurance, financing, leasing, and business acquisitions and divestitures. He helps investors, business owners, real estate developers, and property owners realize opportunities to improve their returns on investment.

Related people

David Waxman