

Represented environmental company in its $40-million sale

August 06, 2018

McGlinchey Stafford represented an environmental company in its $40-million divestiture. The transaction involved the sale of a company with U.S. government procurement contracts and was complicated by the seller's ownership structure, including trusts and intellectual property rights to be transferred.