

Successful defense of RICO claims against national bank.

March 05, 2020

Represented a national bank in federal court against claims that it and its foreclosure counsel had engaged in racketeering activity in violation of RICO when it purportedly fabricated its standing to foreclose. After extensive discovery and multiple lawsuits, we were able to get judgment in favor of our client, finding, among other things, that it did not violate RICO, which was ultimately affirmed on appeal.
