

Successful Representation of Client in Appellate Matter Involving Exception of Prescription

March 27, 2009

On behalf of our client, McGlinchey attorneys convinced the Louisiana First Circuit Court of Appeal to affirm dismissal of a case filed by the plaintiff on an exception of prescription.

The case, dealing with the type of evidence a creditor must submit in order to interrupt prescription on a demand promissory note under La R.S. 10:3-118(b), had already been to the First Circuit and to the Louisiana Supreme Court on related, but different grounds in the past.
