

Successfully overturned five-plus-year-old default judgment entered against financial institution.

March 05, 2020

After garnishment proceedings had been initiated against our client, a national trust company, we were able to stop the collection efforts and get a default judgment that was more than five years old vacated against the client so that the case could be litigated on its merits.