

Fineran*Diaz-Yaeger*Myers*Schlotterer*Beauchamp*Schulz*Siegel

Everett Fineran
partner
Frilot LLC

Everett Fineran is passionate about entrepreneurship and the growth of business in his hometown of New Orleans. He co-founded Frilot Forward, a division of his firm focused on the representation of entrepreneurs and emerging businesses, and works closely with local nonprofit incubator groups like The Idea Village and Propeller.

Fineran has a business background and is an adjunct professor at Loyola Law. He also authored a graduate-level finance textbook called Equity Finance. He is on the editorial board at Esquire Books and has edited numerous law school textbooks, including books on alternative dispute resolution and the laws on evidence in Louisiana. Fineran also regularly gives presentations on business law topics for the National Business Institute and was a featured speaker on negotiation law at the 2017 New Orleans Entrepreneur Week.

When he's not drafting contracts or litigating cases for his clients, Fineran loves to spend time with his children, watches Ted talks and "attempts" to play golf. He graduated from Loyola University, where he served as a member of the Loyola Law Review.

Elia Diaz-Yaeger
shareholder
Lugenbuhl, Wheaton, Peck, Rankin & Hubbard

Elia Diaz-Yaeger's primary areas of practice are industrial employment litigation, commercial litigation, insurance defense and coverage and environmental law.

Diaz-Yaeger has a passion for nurturing diversity and has been widely recognized as an outstanding woman in the field of law. She was recently honored as the national recipient of the Chambers USA 2017 Women in Law Future Leader - Gender Diversity award in the private practice category, recognizing her extensive work in the advancement of women and minorities in the legal profession. In recognition of her extensive professional and civic efforts, she received the Louisiana State Bar Association's 2015 Human Rights Award and was selected to CityBusiness' 2015 Women of the Year class. Diaz-Yaeger was also included in the inaugural edition of the Martindale-Hubbell Bar Register of Preeminent Women Lawyers, an honor reserved for less than 5 percent of AV-rated women lawyers.

Diaz-Yaeger is a longstanding and active member of the Hispanic National Bar Association and is serving in her second year as the organization's national secretary, as well as editor of its biannual publication, Noticias. She was also recently slated as the HNBA's vice president - sections and committees officer and will take office later this year. Diaz-Yaeger is a founding member of the Candy Girls/Life Savers of New Orleans, a nonprofit that supports and provides services to families in need and to a local orphanage. She received her juris doctorate from Loyola University.

Stephen G.A. Myers
member
Irwin Fritchie Urquhart & Moore LLC

Stephen Myers is at the forefront of the life sciences legal practice and is a frequent speaker on 3D printing. He has earned a national and worldwide reputation for his work with experts in litigation and is known for the scientific issues of litigation.

Myers is a member of the Federal Bar Association, New Orleans chapter where he is past chairman of the Younger Lawyers Division and a member of the New Orleans Bar Association where he is the chairman of the pharmaceutical and medical device committee and products liability committee. He was awarded the AV Preeminent, Martindale-Hubbell rating; Louisiana Super Lawyer and The Best Lawyers in America in the area of litigation - labor and employment. He received his bachelor of science degree in engineering science and philosophy from Tulane University and his juris doctorate from Tulane University School of Law.

Bradley Schlotterer
partner
Kean Miller LLP

Brad Schlotterer practices in the admiralty, maritime and energy groups. He has extensive experience in litigation involving the energy, pipeline, shipping, maritime and hospitality industries. He and his trial team obtained a "zero verdict" on a $1.8 million claim for their client in June in federal court. Previously, Schlotterer was a partner at Lemle & Kelleher and following law school served as a federal judicial clerk for the Eastern District of Louisiana.

Schlotterer is a member of the New Orleans (energy litigation section), Louisiana State (natural resources and energy section) and American and Federal (energy section) Bar Associations and the John M. Duhe Jr. American Inn of Court (Charter Member 1997-1999). He has been awarded CityBusiness' Leadership in Law award. Schlotterer received his bachelor of science degree in Finance from Louisiana State University and his juris doctorate from the LSU Law Center.

J. Patrick Beauchamp
member
McGlinchey Stafford PLLC

Pat Beauchamp's practice focuses on real estate, asset finance and municipal finance. He has more than 30 years of experience in real estate acquisitions and financings of commercial properties and maritime and energy assets. He advises clients in connection with revolving and term loan facilities, construction loans, syndicated loans, letter of credit facilities, restructurings and workouts. He also represents community development districts and economic development districts in connection with real estate development and infrastructure finance and advises institutional clients on municipal finance matters including New Markets Tax Credits transactions.

ONES TO WATCH | LAW
CONTINUED FROM PAGE 45

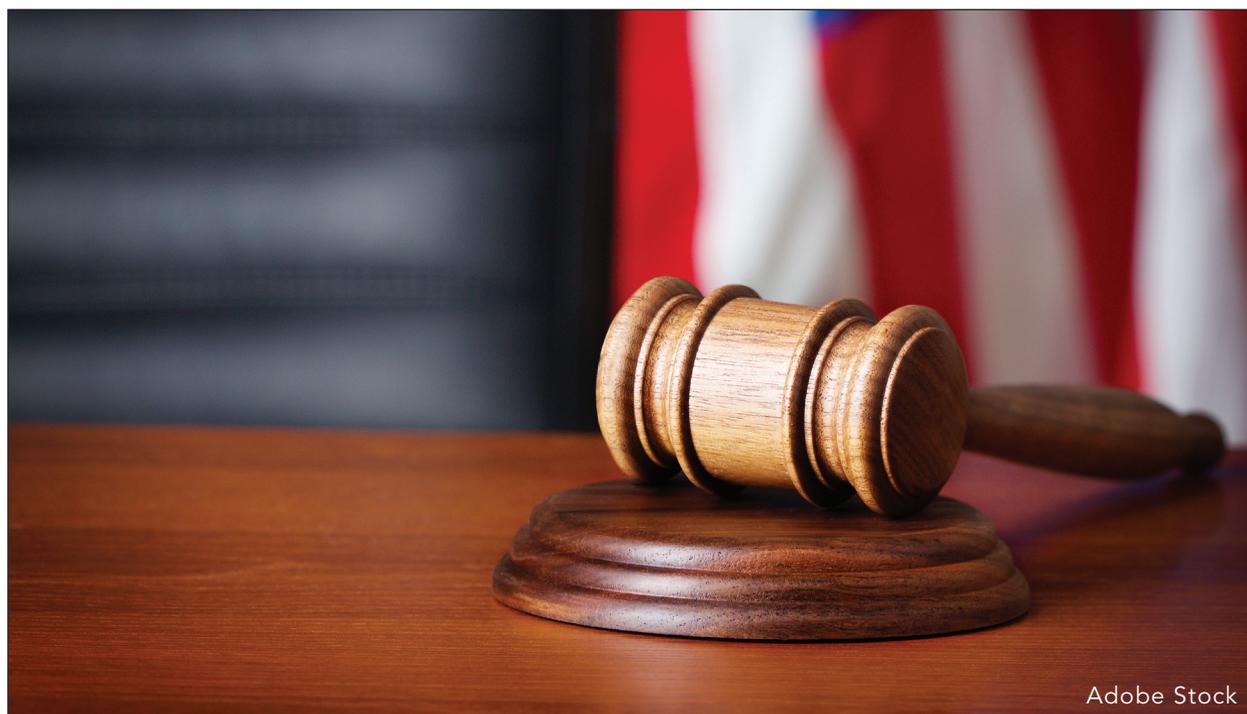

Beauchamp is a member of the American Bar Association; Louisiana Banker's Association, bank counsel section; Louisiana State Bar Association, uniform title standards committee; National Association of Bond Lawyers and the New Orleans Bar Association. He was awarded the Chambers USA Louisiana award in the area of banking and finance: public finance; Martindale-Hubbell AV Peer Review Rated Lawyer Selected in 2013 as a Top Rated Lawyer in banking and finance by American Lawyer Media and Martindale-Hubbell. Beauchamp received his bachelor of arts in English from Loyola University and his juris doctorate from Loyola University School of Law.

Spencer Schulz
attorney

Sessions Fishman Nathan & Israel

Spencer Schulz practices in the firm's consumer defense and commercial litigation groups. Following graduation, he served as a law clerk to Judge James Brady of the U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Louisiana and has practiced as an attorney in Louisiana ever since.

Schulz is licensed to practice law in Louisiana and is admitted to the Louisiana federal courts. At Tulane Law School, he served as a notes and comments editor for the Tulane Law Review and a senior fellow in the legal research and writing department. Schulz was also named to the Order of the Coif and received the Federal Bar Association Award for attaining his class's highest cumulative grade point average in the study of federal law; the Charles Janvier Award for outstanding service to the Tulane Law Review; and book awards in administrative law, federal courts and contracts. He received his bachelor of arts in economics from Columbia University and his juris doctor from Tulane Law School.

Adobe Stock

Kyle Wallace Siegel
associate

Barrasso, Usdin, Kupperman, Freeman & Sarver LLC

Kyle Siegel joined the firm in 2013. Her practice focuses on complex litigation, including products liability, insurance coverage and general commercial disputes. Over the past two years, Siegel has been a member of the products liability trial team. She and the team have been defending a medical device manufacturer in federal multi-district litigation involving a hip implant device. They obtained a defense verdict in the first bellwether trial following an eight-week jury trial in Dallas.

Siegel previously worked as a litigation associate at Latham & Watkins in New York, focusing primarily on securities litigation, government investigations and white collar defense. Prior to that, she served as a law clerk to Judge Rhesa Barksdale, U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals. Before law school, Siegel worked as a staff member of the Senate Rules Committee, as well as a media associate for a nonprofit organization working to prevent teen pregnancy. She received her bachelor of arts degree from Stanford University and her juris doctor from the University of Virginia School of Law.

WHO'S WATCHING YOU?

To submit your name or a colleague's for "Ones to Watch," contact Valerie Huntley at vhuntley@nopg.com or 293-9273.

JFAB

THE PRO BONO PROJECT & HONORARY CHAIR
CHEF LEAH CHASE INVITE YOU TO

THE 29TH ANNUAL JUSTICE FOR ALL BALL

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 2017
8:00PM – MIDNIGHT

AUDUBON TEA ROOM

6500 MAGAZINE STREET | NEW ORLEANS, LA 70118

INDIVIDUAL TICKETS:

$200/ADVANCE
$225/DOOR

RAFFLE TICKETS: $5

FOR PRIZES VALUED AT
$100 & UP

NEW

COMBO TICKET FOR PATRON PARTY & BALL:

$500 (ADVANCE PURCHASE ONLY)

ENJOY FOOD & BEVERAGES FROM LOCAL AREA RESTAURANTS.
RAFFLE, LIVE & SILENT AUCTIONS ALONG WITH MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT
BY THE BUCKTOWN ALL-STARS THROUGHOUT THE EVENING.

TO PURCHASE SPONSORSHIPS & TICKETS,
PLEASE VISIT THE JFAB 2017 WEBSITE AT HTTP://BIT.LY/JFAB2017
OR CALL THE JFAB HOTLINE AT 504.581.3480

We've got the CONSTRUCTION BUZZ
in Louisiana & Mississippi

Daily Journal of Commerce

- Premier source for local construction bids delivered daily online
- Stay competitive with accurate and timely new projects
- Be the first to know about new projects and bids
- Save money with the lowest cost print and online regional construction bids source
- Local help right here in Louisiana

Subscribe TODAY! Go to <https://subscribe.djcgulfcoast.com>